When a producer places coverage with a surplus line insurer, the producer assumes the responsibility of determining that the standards of solvency and management of that insurer meet the requirements in the Illinois Insurance Code and related Regulations. Therefore, one of the most important services the Surplus Line Association provides its members is access to financial information about surplus line companies.

Enclosed is a pamphlet describing the various sources of data available to you through the Information Resources Library at the Association office.

We strongly encourage you to review your responsibilities under Section 445 of the Illinois Insurance Code and Regulation 2801, and to make use of the Association's library.
